WASHINGTON CITY.

A Heavy Order.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—An order was received in this city to-day for one million dollars in confederate bonds.

Washington Notes.

Reports to the navy department say Commodore Shufeldt is cruising on the coast of China in the yacht of the Viceroy Li Hung with two Chinese naval officers, for the purpose of locating naval stations. He hopes to organize an imperial system of naval administration to take the place of the present barbaric methods of governing, equipping and paying the Chinese naval service.

Lieut. Mannix has been made a mandarin, and is busily engaged in studying the Chinese language preparatory to his work as an instructor in naval science.

President Arthur requested Windom to continue at the head of the treasury department until relieved by his successor, and the secretary will remain a few days longer.

Secretary Blaine, as a personal matter, sent a Louisianian named Carter to replace ex-congressman John Baker, of Illinois, as minister to Venezuela. Senator Logan to-day secured an order re-instating Baker. Carter has only just arrived in Venezuela.

Arthur Showing Fatigue.

The president will leave here for New York to-morrow, where he will remain for several days. He already shows the results of incessant attention to the duties of his position.

Another Crank.

A man, apparently insane, made his appearance at the White House to-day and demanded admission. After some parley it was found he was armed with a seven-barreled revolver and evidently bent on shooting somebody. His arrest was accomplished after some difficulty, requiring three men to overpower him. He was well dressed, powerfully built and was recognized by the doorkeeper as a crank who called in May last and was sent home to Pennsylvania. He gave his name as John Woling and endeavored to force his way in. A desperate struggle ensued and Dinsmore choked him so he could not use his drawn revolver. Steward Crump and others took a hand. Woling, or Dr. Noctling, was taken to the station. He presented the following letter:

"John Woling,—You are hereby informed that Dr. John Noctling is lawfully elected president of the United States, and occupies the White House every day. [Signed.] ALMIGHTY GOD. Communicated by the Holy Spirit."

When Woling first appeared and showed his letter, Dinsmore seated him in the parlor until the president could see him. Woling handed him the following for the president: "I desire the official returns of the presidential election." It was after this that Dinsmore arrested him and the struggle began. The madman has been at a hotel here under the name of John Woling since September 28th. His real name is Dr. John Noctling, and his home is at Coleville, Snyder Co., Pennsylvania.

Postal Changes.

Postal changes for the week ending October 29: Discontinued—Indian valley, Union county, Oregon. Postmasters appointed—Charles B. Wheeler, Shedds, Linn county, Oregon.

Another Necessary Resignation.

Col. Geo. Cowie, chief of the diplomatic and consular division, fifth auditor's office, treasury department, has resigned. Cowie recently passed a claim for $2000 which was pronounced illegal by the first comptroller. It is said the claim was endorsed by state department officers, but this endorsement was not thought to be sufficient to warrant its passage by the fifth auditor, and as Cowie was the responsible person his resignation was requested.

After an Appointment.

Page to-day called at the treasury department to present sundry telegrams received by him from prominent citizens of Arizona and California urging the appointment of Wm. B. Hooper, a well known Arizona merchant, to succeed Dr. Lord as fiscal agent of the government depository at Tucson. He was informed, however, that the law does not authorize the designation of any person to act in this capacity except government officers. Dr. Lord was appointed by reason of his being already postmaster, and if the depository does not remain attached to that position it will have to be given to some other federal office holder.

Must Come Direct.

Secretary Hunt informs officers of the navy and marine corps that applications for duty through persons of influence will not receive attention. All such applications must be made directly to the secretary.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

An Interesting Trial.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Owing to the interest in the trial of Lefroy, murderer of F. J. Gold on the Brighton railway last June, special trains will be run to Maidstone, the place of trial.

Disposal of Gibraltar.

World's cable: For some time past it has been whispered at the clubs that the government intended to sell Gibraltar to Spain, and the story seems to have some foundation. It is said the subject has been discussed in the cabinet, and the premier's proposal met with no very decided opposition from his colleagues. Of course it will be very easy for Mr. Gladstone to convince radicals that the interests of peace, public morality and eternal justice demand the sale, but there will be a loud outcry, not only from the old jingoes of the Army and Navy club, who spend the day in upbraiding their gouty limbs and cursing radicalism, but from all moderate liberals. To withdraw from Gibraltar would be to take the first step in Lord Sherbrooke's and Mr. Lowe's programme for the abandonment of India, and would be notice to all the world that England was about to retire from imperial business. Spaniards know their man, and will offer a low price at first, but bidding will advance and the premier will probably be easily satisfied. He auctioned off the guns of the citadel of Quebec without compunction, and will doubtless agree that as Wolfe shed more lustre on the British arms than Sir George Rooke, who seized the rock in the name of Queen Anne, or Lord Heathfield, its gallant defender in later years, it is only false pride that induces us to hold the keys of the Mediterranean after having dismantled the gateway of the St. Lawrence.

Declared Defaulters.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—F. Withaney & Son, old established stock brokers, have been declared defaulters. The circumstances of the failure are of a depressing character.

An Affectionate Farewell.

VIENNA, Oct. 31.—The king and queen of Italy started home this morning. The farewell of the sovereign on the railway platform was most affectionate.

The German Elections.

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—Results in 368 election districts are as follows: 36 conservatives, 24 free conservatives, 80 members center party, 32 national liberals, 30 secessionists, 27 progressionists, 12 Poles and 21 protesters and particularists. Count Von Moltke was defeated at Essen by a clerical, not by Von Benningsen. Von Benningsen, re-elected, is a liberal.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Liberals expect to receive 20 out of 90 seats in second ballots, making their total strength in the reichstag one hundred. Government officials committed great abuses at Lovenburg, where liberals were arrested. Great pressure was also exercised in favor of conservatives in Schleswig-Holstein and west Prussia. The firm adherents of Bismarck in the reichstag will probably not number more than one third, and he will have to negotiate and maneuver more dextrously to carry out his schemes. It is not believed Bismarck will try to conciliate clericals by granting concessions. It is therefore prophesied as a broad result of the elections, he must either return to what his opponents called a liberal policy or bring about a complete stand-still in the domestic situation.

A Statement Denied.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—The statement of Novoe Vremya that it was decided to abolish the diplomatic missions at Lisbon, Dresden, Weimar, Stuttgart, Carlsruhe and Munich is officially denied.

Ratifying Elections.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The chamber of deputies validated a great number of elections, including Gambetta for Belleville.

The Suppressed Portions of Parnell's Speech Published.

HE DENOUNCES THE TENANTS' DEFENSE ASSOCIATION.

Archbishop McCabe's Pastoral Letter Opposes the Parnell Programme—Sexton, the Land League Agitator, Reported as Dying in Jail.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 30.—Considerable commotion was caused by Mr. Parnell's letter printed in the Freeman's Journal on Saturday. There is much curiosity regarding parts of the letter which that journal suppresses, as it says, on account of the proclamation of government." Following are the suppressed portions, which are most significant. After protesting against the formation of a tenants' defense league to succeed the land league, he says: "The only organization longer possible is that tenants should meet on estates where they are called on to pay rent, and should decide upon a common line of action recommended in the manifesto of the executive. The time is now come for the Irish people to choose between government land courts and the principles of the league. We have used our resources to support those who stand by our principles, but we won't aid any tenant on those estates where fellow tenants in the same estates are unmindful of these principles. We have therefore directed those in charge of the relief funds to refuse assistance to tenants on any estate where the rest of the tenants have paid rent, or applied to court to have a fair rent fixed. We advise evicted tenants to continue to rely on the league and not to waste their slender resources on a useless legal struggle. Permit me to express in conclusion the unanimous feeling of every man in the jail that they are willing to remain here for any number of months or years that may be necessary, so long as the Irish people, whom it is impossible to imprison, stand by the lessons we taught them during two years." The government is concerned about the manner in which political documents make their way out of Kilmainham's; first, the no rent manifesto; second, the Herald interview; third, Parnell's letter.

Archbishop McCabe's Pastoral.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A Herald's special from Dublin says: Archbishop McCabe will deliver an important pastoral to-morrow. The following is an extract referring to the present crisis, kindly furnished me by his grace:

"The condition of our dear country calls for our bitterest tears. Only a little while ago our own city presented scenes of lawlessness which might disgrace an unchristian rabble. It is true that the evil doers were but a handful of misguided youths; but it is nevertheless true that evil doers are in our midst, and that the youthful culprit of to-day may become the hardened profligate, if society fails in its duties to the rising generation. We feel ourselves, very reverend fathers, imperatively called on to enter our most solemn protest against any other indignity such as has been offered to the moral sense of our own people in this city, the center of Catholic Ireland. A few days ago over-confiding men were startled from their dream of security by the publication of a manifesto which at once assaulted the eternal law of God and struck at the foundations on which society rests. Passing over all other cases in which these rights are threatened let us confine ourselves to one particular class of the community. There are hundreds of honest, industrious men among us who, trusting to their faith in public conscience and calculating on the security which a duly constituted government is expected to give, have invested the fruits of their years of toil and self sacrifice in property from which they hoped they and theirs might draw the means of an honest subsistence, but all this must be swept away by the breath of a handful of men the bulk of whom have neither stake nor interest in the country. We disregard the warning which cautioned us against the danger that lurked in the specious programmes pretending to aim at naught save the redress of the wrongs of an oppressed people, but now God's providence has forced from the lips of the unsafe guides an avowal of their aims, and if the notice to pay no rents be not the teaching of communism, communism has yet to be defined. Let no one suppose, very reverend fathers, that we have a word to say in defense of the oppressors of the poor. We feel as keenly as the most outspoken of our brethren inspired by the ministrations of cruel injuries worked by bad laws on the defenceless tenants of Ireland. But we must not allow our abhorrence of injustice to betray us into a repudiation of the claims of justice. If to-day my landlord's claim to his just rent is questioned who will guarantee the tenants' right to his outlay of money and toil to-morrow. If justice will repay injustice and in day of retribution the wrong doer will be laughed at when he seeks for sympathy in his troubles. The issue is now plainly put to our people which of two paths they will follow, whether they will follow the men who have marked out the road that must lead to anger with God and disgrace before the Christian world, or the bishops of Ireland who, through a glorious and unbroken succession of 14 centuries are heirs of those who encountered poverty and exile and dared death in its most terrible form for the people with whom their lives are irrevocably bound up."

The farmers are flocking into the land court in increasing numbers every day. Sixteen hundred applied yesterday and thirty-five hundred to-day. The staff of clerks is working night and day yet all are completely swamped. It is in contemplation to appoint more sub commissions as the force now about to sit are inadequate to the labor. It would take two years for the present staff to work off the cases which will probably apply during the coming month.

Herald cable: The pastoral of Archbishop McCabe was read in the Catholic churches of the Dublin diocese to-day, and created considerable sensation. Passages from the pastoral were printed late last night and demonstrations against it to be made to-day were at once organized. At the cathedral in Marlboro street, about 150 young men rose at the moment when the priest began his references to the land league and drowned the speaker's voice in the noisy demonstrations which they made in leaving the building. At Avon Quay chapel a similar incident occurred and in other chapels dissenting noises and gestures were made.

Irish Items.

DUBLIN, Oct. 30.—Directly after the publication of Parnell's letter deprecating formation of a tenants' defense association, the governor of Kilmainham jail was superceded by two new governors sworn in. Inquiry will probably be instituted. Parnell will probably be sentenced to 14 days' deprivation of visits for issuing the letter.

Sexton is reported dying.

There seems to be a reaction setting in; although 400 leaguers are in prison, occasional events show that the spirit underlying the league movement survives.

Anthony McHale, a Catholic priest at Laparloune, diocese of Kildare, was arrested for holding a land league meeting in his chapel.

Already 7500 cases are before the land court, 3600 entered Saturday.

Several more arrests in the various parts of Ireland.

It is stated a secret meeting of the branch land league was held in Dublin Saturday when 200 new members were enrolled.

The Freeman's Journal publishes a letter dated at Kilmainham jail from Wm. O'Brien, subscribing to a fund for Dr. Kenny. A letter from T. D. Sullivan is also published recommending Dr. Kenny as a parliamentary candidate for Meath.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—Among the arrests to-day are the secretaries of Castle Dermot and Athy branches of the land league, the president of the Newmarket branch and Horkan, a league organizer at Kildare, at a disorderly meeting.

The corporation to-day received the resignations of a number of members of the council in consequence of the rejection of E. Dwyer-Gray's recent motion to confer the freedom of the city upon Parnell and Dillon.

The dynamite found on the train on the way to Drogheda was intended for legitimate excavating operations.

The Land League in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The land leaguers still affect the sincerest confidence in the eventual triumph of their cause, though the turn which things have taken in the first few days might depress the most cheerful of them. The treasurer of the league has not given up the hope of getting that million sterling which he wants so badly, but so far nothing justifies the hope. He was fain to confess to me to-day that since the arrest of Mr. Parnell he has only received subscriptions amounting to about £2500, the greater part being remitted from America. The league has now quite decided not to have any officers either here or in England. The opening of an office in England might be regarded as a conspiracy and have disagreeable consequences. Messrs. Egan and Biggar will remain in Paris for a time, and whenever the state of league affairs requires other members will come over to confer with them. The league relies for the present almost entirely on the exertions of the lady leaguers. Miss Parnell has been forwarded $10,000, and will be commissioned to attend to the task of relieving evicted tenants with that meager fund. I asked Mr. Egan to clear up one important point in regard to the ultimate objects of the league movement, and to explain what was the exact meaning of their cry of "no rents, no landlords." Mr. Egan replied, speaking in behalf of himself and the majority of his friends, that it was intended to make a letting of land, even by farmers, illegal, and that no man in Ireland should be allowed to hold more land than he could cultivate, and that whenever the farmers found that they had too much they should be compelled to sell part of it.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES.

A Denial by the Postmaster-General.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Postmaster-General James denies the report that he will leave the cabinet on December 1st. He will remain certainly till January 1st, and possibly longer, until at least some result has been reached in the star route cases. He remains thus long in deference to the wishes of President Arthur. He thinks his presence is not necessary to the success of the prosecution. He has had little to do with gathering evidence. He has been kept informed of the progress of cases, but only in general terms. A new postmaster general would in a day or two become as familiar with the position of cases as he. His efforts have been mainly towards correcting mismanagement found to exist and in reducing the cost of mail service. Mr. James does not conceal the fact that he thinks MacVeagh should have continued in office at least until indictments were found in the star route cases.

Geo. Bliss will be here to-morrow and the motion to strike from the record information against Brady et al will be argued. Totten and Ingersoll will attack and Bliss and Brewster defend the sufficiency of the proceeding. MacVeagh will not appear and all reports that he is to be appointed to aid in the cases are unfounded.

MacVeagh's Resignation not Accepted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Tribune's Washington special: The president has decided not to accept MacVeagh's resignation for the present. MacVeagh was to have returned to Washington on Monday to acquaint his successor with the duties of his office but under the circumstances he may not arrive. Had his resignation been accepted it was the president's intention to offer him a retainer to serve as counsel in the star route cases.

The Faults of Key's Administration.

The Times prints another feature in Gen. Key's administration of the postal department and his whitewashing of frauds. It says at the very threshold of the department the new postmaster general was presented with a report from Mr. Talcott Williams on the results of an inquiry he had been permitted to make, on condition that results be submitted prior to publication. The document was a plain, straightforward, careful statement of facts, going somewhat minutely into details and bringing out very clearly the character, purposes and methods of the star route schemes. The results of the inquiry which Gen. Key had required to be submitted to him before publication are now for the first time published. If he made the requirement for the purpose of preventing publication he succeeded. That that was his object is an inference entirely consistent with his subsequent course regarding the Tyner report. He had early in his term full knowledge of all essential facts regarding star route frauds. Afterward in Tyner's report he had absolute confirmation of this knowledge. He did nothing, but after two years of retirement he comes to the surface as an apologist for the authors and abettors of these frauds. He might better have kept still and let, if it could, the evil he did get its righteous penalty without calling public attention to his humiliating connection with it.

The Star Route Cases.

World's Washington special: Col. Ingersoll having returned to the city, he and other counsel for Brady and his associates in the star route cases, will appear in court to-morrow ready to submit arguments why the information recently submitted to the court by District Attorney Corkhill, should be quashed as invalid, irregular, unprecedented and illegal. There is a doubt whether the arguments will be heard on account of the absence of Special District Attorney Cook, who has direct supervision of the case. No intimation has been received from Mr. MacVeagh, that he will have anything to do with these proceedings, and the impression among lawyers is that sufficient reason has not appeared why information should have reached the court through the grand jury. Brady's counsel will score the first mark in the contest.

Argument in the star route cases begins on Thursday next.

Guilty of Great Frauds.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—A Washington special says: Col. Bliss so far from believing there is no case against those accused of star route frauds, as has been reported, publishes the following regarding that paragraph: The statement is wholly untrue. While not desiring to try the cases out of court, I may under the circumstances be justified in saying that when I examined the cases originally I arrived at the conviction that the parties concerned had been guilty of great frauds on the government. My consequent investigations have strengthened that conviction. By another gentleman closely identified with the investigation of the alleged conspiracy the statement was made to-night that the amount out of which the government has been defrauded is known to be in the neighborhood of $9,000,000.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

Newfoundland Shipping Items.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Oct. 31.—The steamer Bristol, nine days from New York arrived this afternoon with the steamer Avona of Dundee in tow. The latter was bound from Cadiz to Halifax and Montreal with fruit and wine. She experienced heavy gales, had her rudder carried away and cargo shifted. She was 22 days out when sighted by the Bristol Thursday.

The steamer Ifsacard, from Virginia to London with cotton, seven days out, arrived with her propeller broken. The accident occurred during the severe gale of Friday.

Mr. H. Villard's name is in the list of $1000 subscribers to the fund for Mrs. Garfield and her children. The New York Times gave $1000, and the Evening Post $500 while many newspapers in different cities collected and forwarded subscriptions to the fund.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

A Grave in the Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The ship County of Aberdeen arrived to-day from Iloilo and reports that August 9th in latitude 37.55 south, longitude 1.32 west between 9 and 11 A. M., she passed 11 corpses. Some of them, from their clothing, appeared to be seamen, the others were Hindoos.

A Lively Port.

The harbor has been very lively. During the day 20 deep water ships were added to the unusual number already in port. Among the arrivals was the American steamer Jaro ideter, from Yokohama, in the unprecedented time of 22 days. This beats the average passage of side wheel steamers formerly run on that route by the Pacific Mail Co. There are now 148 ships in port suitable for wheat with a carrying capacity of about 250,000 tons. As a consequence, freights are disposed to sag, and with the great number of ships on the way, are likely to reach figures more in accordance with views of wheat growers than those of months past.

At the Chinese consulate it is learned that the name of the new Chinese minister to the United States is Cheng Chao Yu. He is a taotai in rank and has recently held the position of chief of maritime customs, corresponding nearly with our secretary of treasury. The newly appointed minister went to Peking the latter part of August to confer with the imperial authorities, and will leave for the United States the middle or latter part of November. He is accredited to the United States and Peru. After setting his arrangements at Washington he will visit Peru and establish a legation there, but will make Washington his permanent residence. The office of second minister to the United States heretofore held by Yung Wing, has been abolished.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 1, 1881.

OUR ALLEGED NAVY.

It has been stated that not less than $200,000,000 have been expended on the United States navy within the past ten years, with what results the people are painfully aware. So great a sum should have given us a navy that would make a respectable show beside the splendid marine forces of England and France, but instead of such a reasonable result being obtained, every citizen of the United States is humiliated by the shabby exhibit of patched-up hulks of an exploded system, a few light vessels of modern construction that could make no resistance to the heavy iron-clads of other powers, some "cheese boxes on rafts," and a few floating batteries of old design that are hardly fit for harbor defense. It may be asked, "what has become of the $200,000,000?" That magnificent sum has been squandered in nondescript naval experiments, engineered by men who had no technical knowledge, allowing such immense leakage as has enriched the Robeson ring that manipulated the reorganization of our navy. The inadequacy of our naval force has induced Secretary Hunt to convene a board to perpare plans for a new navy. This is a gigantic undertaking, and although much needed, will be strenuously opposed by many who have witnessed the fraudulent and incompetent manner in which the $200,000,000 have been wasted and stolen. The plans of the advisory board will be submitted to congress, and it will be on the floor of congress that the fight will be made. The advisory board have recommended the building of four classes of vessels at a cost of not less than ten millions. Already is there determined opposition to such an appropriation, upon the blank ground that it will be a sinking of the money thus appropriated. No confidence is felt in either the ability or integrity of those who will have the disbursement of this heavy sum in hand, and, though the need is patent, it is urged that there is no sense in throwing the handle after the ax, by expending ten millions uselessly in the vain endeavor to rectify the loss of the two hundred millions.

This is a most mortifying and humiliating state of affairs. The nation has no adequate protection on the sea, and it is openly declared that our officials are such rogues and numskulls that the heaviest outlay of money furnishes only vessels that are the laughing stock of the world, and that serve only to line comfortably the pockets of the imbeciles who build them. But we cannot agree that the appropriation should be voted down, for we virtually have no navy; yet such an appropriation should be made under stringent conditions that would necessitate the honest disbursement of the same, and the employment of designers, builders and experts generally, whose work has been approved by those who possess model ships. The Romans built their navy that conquered Carthage from the model of a wrecked galley of the enemy. If our own people have retrograded from their hard won reputation as ship builders, we should buy an English or French model, and hire foreign builders and artisans, so that a decent navy may be constructed. The people of the United States appear to approve Secretary Blaine's recent letter on the Panama canal. Yet that letter, if it means anything, signifies that we may ere ten years have to fight European powers on this issue, to avert a menace to the vast national interests that would be affected and imperilled by permitting such water way to be constructed and operated under foreign and perhaps hostile control. Yet how could we assert ourselves in such an emergency without a navy? The war would not take place on the isthmus, but the heaviest blows would be on our own coasts, and perhaps at our own ports. Situated as we are now, our chief maritime cities would be wholly at the mercy of foreign naval powers.

HOW GLADSTONE VIEWS AMERICA

Premier Gladstone, says the New York Journal of Commerce, feels very much obliged to this country for sticking to its fatuous policy of protection. It furnishes him with some of his best points against "fair trade" and "retaliation," which is modern English for protection itself. The wonderful veteran, in his speech-making tours of the recess, occasionally encounters his old protection opponents in their new masquerading dress of fair traders. These are the persons who are urging a return to taxes on foreign breadstuffs, for the benefit of the British farmer and the condign punishment of the United States for our obstinate persistence in discriminating tariffs. It is a proposal to fight us with our own weapons. But Mr. Gladstone is able to show that these weapons are most hurtful to those who wield them.

Every effort we make to exclude foreign manufactures only shuts off so much of our exports from customers we otherwise should have. If we will not trade with them they will not trade with us save when necessity absolutely compels them. This is a commercial rule to which there is no exception. It takes two nations to make commerce, which is only a systematized bargaining on a large scale. Mr. Gladstone plants himself sturdily on these axiomatic principles. He shows how the thing works in restricting the area and values of the American export trade and how the contrary effect takes place under the free British plan.

That was a knock-down blow given to protection by the venerable premier when he pointed out our depressed shipping interest as a proof of the injurious effect of the giant fallacy which we hug. The American steamship is the best protected thing on the whole schedule. It is impossible for an American to purchase an English built vessel and register it under his country's flag without a special act of congress approved by the president. These conditions virtually make the transaction impossible. The prohibition is in substance absolute. Result—not a single American steamship now leaves the port of New York for any part of Europe. Volumes could not say more in condemnation of protection. No wonder Mr. Gladstone complacently says, "so long as America adheres to protection our commercial supremacy will be secure. We need not disturb ourselves the slightest on that score."

A sub-committee of the United States senate is drafting a new banking law. It is holding sessions in New York, Boston and other cities, to get the views of merchants, bankers and business men as to the substance of the bill which they propose to have ready to report early in January. Senator Ingalls, of the sub-committee, says that "out of many hundred responses from judges and business men to the circulars issued by the sub-committee inviting suggestions, the only objection to the enactment of a national bankrupt law has come from certain national banks in the southwest, from the board of trade of Louisville, and from one or two New York merchants." It is believed that President Arthur, in his annual message, will recommend the passage of a bankrupt law, which, while affording relief, will avoid the expensive machinery pertaining to former laws on the subject.

It was claimed that the Hawaiian treaty would greatly increase the amount of our exports to the islands, and that this would be ample compensation for the duties remitted. But the duties remitted amount to $2,500,000 a year, while the total value of exports from the United States to the islands is nearly half a million less. Thus it appears that our government, had it not given up the duties, might have purchased and made a present to the islanders all the goods and commodities they are taking from the United States, and still have a surplus left of nearly half a million dollars a year.

Already the trial of Guiteau has been postponed from the 7th to the 14th November. The technical agony is now to begin in earnest. The plea against the jurisdiction of the court will be the first thing. That question, however it may be decided, will have to go, so the lawyers say to the supreme court of the United States. It is expected that from one to two years will be required to settle this first incidental and preliminary technicality. At such rate the assassin will grow old and die in the natural way before justice can reach him.

From Gov. Thayer's letter to the Portland branch of the land league, it would seem that his excellency feels obliged to discourage the fitting out of an Irish-American armada against England from the shores of our state. The great surprises of history have turned on comparatively obscure incidents. Thus Gov. Thayer's action has postponed for an indefinite period the overthrow of the British government. But he will never get a majority in Couch precinct again.

There is no doubt that a vigorous effort will be made to secure the admission of Dakota as a state during the next session of congress. The territory now has a population of fully 200,000. A convention is to be held at Fargo early in December to set the scheme in motion. Washington ought to be admitted at the same time. Her rapid development demands it, and her future will more than justify it. No other territory has such a future as Washington.

Tyner says he was the original star route reformer, and complains that he is treated with injustice in being dismissed from office. He pays the penalty of allowing his report to be suppressed lest publication of it would "raise a row."

The official vote of Ohio is published, as follows: Foster, republican, 312,735; Bookwalter, democrat, 288,426; Ludlow, prohibition, 16,597; Seitz greenbacker, 6330. Foster over Bookwalter, 24,309; over all, 1582.

CITY.

RECEPTION.—Gen. Eaton returned to the city last evening from Forest Grove, having visited there the Tualatin academy, Pacific university and the Indian training school at that place. On account of the changed time of the steamer Columbia being changed to Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the general has been obliged to abandon his proposed trip up the Columbia, and the reception which was being arranged for Thursday evening will take place on Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 8:30 o'clock. The reception will be given for the purpose of giving the teachers and friends of education an opportunity to meet and get acquainted with Gen. Eaton and hear him speak. Addresses will be made by several of our prominent citizens. Teachers and friends of education are respectfully invited to be present. It is to be hoped the general will carry away with him a favorable impression of the educational institutions of the northwest, and of the deep interest taken by our citizens in the future citizens of our country.

ARRESTS FOR OCTOBER.—The police made 320 arrests during the month just closed, as follows: Drunk and disorderly 172, disorderly conduct 29, assault and battery 20, carrying concealed weapons 4, defacing building 2, abusive language 7, U. S. convict on route 2, larceny 27, fast driving on wharf 7, hanging articles suspended from poles on sidewalk 4, fast driving 1, resisting an officer 1, assault with a dangerous weapon 2, placing sign across sidewalk 1, acting as insurance agent without license 1, obstructing sidewalks 10, assault with intent to kill 3, keeping wash house without license 2, U. S. insane patient on route 1, keeping gambling house 2, contempt of court 1, running for hotel without license 1, held as witness 1. Arrests for October, 1880, numbered 303. Fines collected during last month were nearly $1800, the largest amount ever paid in thirty days since the organization of the police department.

INCORPORATED.—The Farmers' Transportation company has filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state with a capital stock of $100,000 and the following incorporators, William Nicholas, William Lowe and I. W. Graham. The object of the corporation is to construct and equip a line of steamboats and barges on all or any of the navigable, Columbia and Snake rivers or their tributaries, to construct, equip and operate such railroads, canals or locks as may be necessary or convenient for the purpose of the transportation of freight or passengers, and to hold, use, enjoy, and occupy such wharves, buildings and other real or personal property as may be found necessary in the business. Principal office to be located at Portland.

—Mr. Charles Turk, the worthy son of his father, could not convince Judge Stearns yesterday that he was not guilty of assault and battery upon Olsen, although Charles and two of his friends swore that Olsen applied an uncomplimentary name to Charles, and that Olsen dealt the first blow. The court remarked that the Turk family had appeared before him several times during the past year, and were never, according to their own and their friends' testimony, ever guilty of misconduct. It nearly always happened that the prosecuting witnesses were roughly used and severely injured. A fine of $20 and costs was imposed, and Turk gave notice that he would appeal.

GRAND LODGE.—Commencing Wednesday of this week, the 9th inst., a grand lodge of Knights of Pythias for Oregon and Washington, will be organized in this city. Heretofore lodges in this state and territory have been working under the supreme lodge of the United States. ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

THE CASE OF FRANK HOWARD IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

The Entire Testimony taken Yesterday and Argument on both sides made—An all Night Session, Etc.

The case of Frank Howard, charged with the murder of James A. Smith, at Ross island, on the 12th of September last, was called yesterday in the State circuit court. The following jury was empaneled: T. B. Maxwell, T. K. Williams, J. C. Snover, Peter Knox, W. H. Shields, R. R. McGregor, D. L. Haines, C. Fellows, A. R. Stringer, W. L. Stone and Fred Love. Two of the jury excused by the state, five by the defense and two others were rejected for cause. Hon. J. F. Caples made a brief opening address to the jury explaining the salient points of the case and characterized the slaying of Smith as a cold blooded murder. H. Y. Thompson of counsel for the defense followed District attorney Caples and explained the status of his side of the case.

The first witness sworn was

CHARLES BELGARDE,

Who testified through Felix Martin, interpreter. H. Y. Thompson, of counsel for defense, objected to witness testifying through an interpreter, thought he could speak in English. He informed the court that this was a standing objection.

Belgarde testified in the French language as follows: My occupation is that of hunting and fishing; knew James A. Smith; saw him at Ross island; I knew Frank Howard, the defendant; I saw him at Ross island the day Jim Smith was killed; saw him in the saloon in the boat-house at that place; on the day Smith was killed I started from Portland in a boat with a woman and a Chinaman; defendant came up to the boat-house in a boat; he was accompanied by a Chinese boy; I was in a boat fishing at the time with a woman and a Chinaman; Howard got out of his boat and invited all hands to take a drink; then the proprietor of the place said, "come in and have a drink;" defendant said he didn't want to drink in company with a Chinaman, but if the Chinaman wanted a drink he (Howard) would pay for it. I said to him, "It's funny you don't want to drink with a Chinaman when you have one following you." I then went out, leaving Smith in the bar room with the defendant. Smith, Howard and the proprietor were in the room. I sat down outside. I stayed there for a moment, when the woman Jennie Trevanion and I went in. I was leaning with my elbow on the counter. She asked me if I would have a bite of lunch. I said no. While in this position I heard a pistol shot, and turning around I saw Smith fall on the floor. I saw Howard attempting to put revolver in his pocket. Howard said, "I didn't like to kill him; let me have a glass." I said to the woman of the house, "Take the pistol from him." She took it from Howard and hid it in her room. Howard started out and ran to his boat and got into it with the little Chinese boy. Proprietor of place and I told him to stop. He would not stop. I jumped into my boat and followed him. Howard took one of his oars and threatened to knock me down. I seized my oar and prepared to defend myself. Howard came back to boat-house and went into room. I told him to sit down and wait. He called for some cigars and beer. I told Mr. Chale that lemonade would be better for Howard. I walked to and fro watching over him. At this time there was present myself, Miss Trevanion, defendant, Chinaman, landlord and the Chinese boy. The Chinaman works for Miss Trevanion. I did not hear anything said between Smith and Howard before the shot was fired. Smith was unarmed at the time.

JOHN BARRY,

Saloon keeper, corner Second and Washington, testified that he was out rowing, and just as he arrived at the boat house heard a pistol shot; ran to Smith, who was prostrate, face downward; told Belgarde to kill Howard if necessary to capture him; turned Smith over; felt his pulse, but could detect no pulsation; returned to city and informed police of the affair.

GEO. JAMES,

A Chinaman who spoke the French language, was next sworn and examined through Felix Martin, interpreter. He said: I understand French; lived in Paris and the island of Mauritius. I work as cook for Jennie Trevanion; did not know Smith; saw him on the day he was killed; I was in a corner sitting in a chair, and Smith was leaning on the counter; Howard took a pistol from his pocket and fired at Smith; Mrs. Chale grabbed pistol and carried it off; she ran away; got into a boat and went for the police; Smith was barefooted, and as he came round counter Howard shot him; Smith had no weapon.

Cross-examined—Smith was on side of counter and walked slowly up to the place where he was shot; he did not have his hand in pistol pocket; neither said anything.

M. I. LEVINSON,

City editor of THE OREGONIAN, was sworn and testified: Saw Frank Howard after the shooting. Saw him at 5 o'clock that day, and again at 7:30. I went there to get his version of the affair for publication. I told him my business. Howard said: Well, Smith threatened to get away with me. You know whether he did or not. I went out to have a little time. While in the saloon I went over to a little boy and asked, whose kid is that? The little boy was offended at this remark and I apologized. Smith came up and insulted me. He started out and said, "Give me my rifle; I want to kill the d——d s—— b——." He came back and put his right hand behind him. Now, I was raised in a mining country, and when a man puts his hand behind him and threatens me, I know I've got to get my gun out first or get hurt.

The court adjourned till 7 P. M.

H. Y. Thompson, of counsel for defense, during the recess received a dispatch informing him that his mother was dying. He asked that, if it was possible, he would like the case to be finished during the night.

CAPT. C. T. BELCHER

Being sworn testified that he saw Smith at Ross Island the day of shooting; never saw Howard till that day; arrested him and took him to the city jail; received the pistol from Officer Collins; it is a six-shooter; two chambers were loaded when I got it.

The pistol was offered in evidence. No objection by defense.

W. I. BALL

Testified that Howard hired a boat from him on the day of the murder; took his coat off and placed it in the boat and took his pistol out and placed it on the coat.

R. Collins, police officer, and J. M. Cawood, deputy sheriff, testified to the arrest of Howard.

J. M. CAYWOOD

Testified to a conversation between Howard and him while coming in a hack to jail. Howard asked him if ever he saw a man hung. I said that I saw several; that there were things I liked to see much better than men hanging. Howard said that he liked to see men dangling in the air. Smith threatened to shoot him; that he went down for his pistol, but he (Howard) got the bulge on him.

DR. W. H. SAYLOR

Testified to the illness of Miss Trevanion and said it would not be judicious to venture out.

JOHN GARNOLD, CORONER,

Testified to examining Smith's body; found wound near left nipple, saw blood there; have his coat, undershirt and overshirt. [These garments were exhibited and introduced in evidence.] Howard buried his face in his hands when these garments were shown to the jury and the bullet hole pointed out. Garnold resumed his evidence. I searched Smith; found nothing on him but a small pocket knife; it was closed. The prosecution rested and the defense called

ALPHONSE CHALE

As their first witness. James A. Smith stopped with us, my wife and me, at Ross Island; he had been drinking for some days prior to shooting; saw Howard there that day; Howard went into the room where Mrs. LaChapelle and her son Charley were and asked whose kid is that? The little boy got angry at being called a kid, and Howard said he was sorry if he hurt his feelings; Smith came in and had some words with Howard; I went out behind my bar; Smith came to me and said, "Give me my rifle; I'll shoot that s-of-a-b; Smith spoke to me in English; they came into the bar-room; Smith turned round at counter; he had one hand behind him; do not know if he had a pistol in his pocket; heard a shot and ran from behind bar; saw Howard put a pistol in his pocket; Mr. Barry came in and I told him Smith was shot; Howard jumped into a boat; I said to him you better come back and give yourself up to the police.

Cross-examined—Howard said to Belgarde it's all your fault, I'll give $500 to each of you if I'm cleared. I don't remember saying to Howard: Oh, you murdered that man; it's a shame, it's a shame!

CHIEF LAPPEUS

Testified that he knew Smith. In reply to the question what was Smith's general reputation for peace and quiet? "that for six months prior to his death he had been considered dangerous."

MRS. LACHAPELLE

Testified to the conversation between Smith and Howard, and said that the former attempted to strike Howard. She did not see the shooting as she left before it occurred.

The deposition of Ellen Chale was read by H. Y. Thompson and strongly corroborated her husband's testimony.

FRANK HOWARD,

The defendant, was put on the stand in his own behalf. Testified to seeing Smith on the corner of First and Stark streets, Portland, two or three weeks prior to the shooting. I received information at the time that led me to believe that Smith was a dangerous man. On the day of shooting went to Ross Island and while in boat-house entered parlor. While talking there to Mrs. La Chapelle and her boy, J. A. Smith entered room. He came between boy and me. He advanced toward me and struck me on the chest. I told him that I wanted no quarrel with him. He then put his hand in his hip pocket. He said to me, "Do you see my hand?" I asked him why. He said, "If I hit you I'll kill you." I said I did not come to quarrel with anybody. I went out to the boat with Mrs. La Chapelle and asked to go in the boat with her. I missed a handkerchief and went back to get it. James Smith came toward me and followed me in. He said, "You insulted a lady, you d—d s—n of a b—h; G—d d—n you, I'll kill you." I said, "I'm a stranger; I want no quarrel with you." I went into the barroom; Miss Trevanion called me a vile name. Smith came toward me and I pushed him away. He shouted for a rifle to kill me with. Belgarde said I would never leave there alive. Belgarde pulled a six shooter and the Chinaman a knife. Smith had one hand in his pocket, and I firmly believed he was attempting to draw a revolver. I pulled my pistol and it went off. We were all excited. Mrs. Chale took my pistol out of my pocket and I went out to deliver myself to the officers. Chale told me I had better come back.

Wm. Beck testified to the character of Smith.

Messrs. Barry and Belgarde were called in rebuttal.

At 11 o'clock they rested the case. The court told the jury that if they desired lunch they might procure it. District Attorney Caples said that he would like to finish the case if possible. The jury consented to remain in their seats till the arguments were finished. Hon. M. F. Mulkey made the opening argument on behalf of the prosecution. H. Y. Thompson followed for the defense and District Attorney Caples closed for the state. At 2 o'clock this morning Judge Stott was delivering his charge to the jury.

EXTRAORDINARY GOOD LUCK.

THROUGH SOUTH CHANNEL WITHOUT A PILOT.

The "Kirkwood" Drawing 19 Feet Moving with dry, gets over Clatsop Spit into Deep Water—Miraculous Escape.

[The following special to THE OREGONIAN from our regular Astoria correspondent was prepared for sending Sunday night, but prostration of the wires prevented its transmission. Escape of the Kirkwood from total wreck while sailing without a pilot through a channel abandoned more than a year ago by deep water vessels, is nothing short of miraculous.]

ASTORIA, Oct. 30, 1881.

What the sailors call "dirty weather," has prevailed off the mouth of the river for several days, and the natural and unavoidable consequence is the detention of several ships inside foreign bound, and ready for sea, and the prevention of some inward bound reaching port anchorage on account of heavy bar, contrary winds and other untoward circumstances.

Capt. Carroll of the little California, it is well known, has had considerable coasting experience, and he says he never encountered heavier weather than he met between Fuca straits and the mouth of the Columbia on his last trip. He crossed in Saturday and reported two vessels hove down outside, and another with sails carried away. The British ship Kirkwood, with coal from Newcastle, N. S. W., arrived off the bar yesterday, and without a pilot, the captain found his ship alongside the outer buoy off Point Adams. Sighting the next buoy he concluded to venture in, hoping to make the channel by the buoys. His ship drawing 19 feet he entered the south channel with the bar breaking light across. He had a short but rough experience among the heavy breakers before his ship ploughed through the sands to deep soundings, which almost miraculously she did after a few thumps on the bottom. Three times as she touched, the breakers rolled over her, and one heavier than the rest stove the cabin, filling it with water, and lifting the captain, mate and several of the men from their feet, and hurling them with such violence that all were more or less injured. Either by good luck or good management the ship was at length safely anchored in the channel near the Great Republic wreck, and was this morning safely towed into harbor by the tug Columbia. Dr. W. D. Baker was summoned on board to attend the wounded. Capt. Sinnott was laid up with a very severe scalp cut and bruised shoulder. The first officer has received a severe injury to his legs. One man had his arm and another a rib broken. All had a very narrow escape under the circumstances. This is, we are informed, Captain Sinnott's first voyage to the Columbia river. He too knew nothing of the lighthouse erected on Tillamook rock.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Second Day.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

EUGENE, Oct. 29.

The convention met for devotional exercises at 9:30 A. M., after which the educational work was taken up through a report from McMinnville college. The report showed an endowment of $20,000, a building fund of $2,000 subscribed and now being rapidly paid in, an arrearage of interest now capable of collection of over $2000 and a floating debt of $1100. Rev. E. C. Anderson, who has been connected with the Kalamazoo and Michigan university, is now at the head of the school. The affairs of the college are reported in a prosperous and hopeful condition. Colfax academy, Colfax, W. T., was referred to in the report, as having a remarkable inception and growth, and it now presents its claims for help to the convention. A two story building of three rooms is being erected at a great sacrifice by the citizens of the town for Baptist use, and efficient teachers are employed.

The convention adjourned at 11 A. M., to visit the State University by invitation of its president, Prof. J. W. Johnson.

Above forty delegates visited the different rooms in a body and were introduced to the various teachers and classes. The entire faculty are now jubilant over the prospects of the university brightened by the repeated smile of Mr. Villard.

The Woman's Baptist Mission Society occupied the entire afternoon in reports from the various circles, essays on different features of the work and plans for the future.

The board of the convention met during the afternoon and transacted considerable business, which will be made public when completed.

The evening was passed in hearing a sermon from Rev. J. A. Gray of Portland, delivered to a crowded house.

The convention committee reported a full day's programme for Saturday and adjourned till Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The site of Pocahontas, once quite a large mining camp, about eight miles west of Baker City, is now occupied by one or two old, dilapidated and forsaken buildings. A short distance further up, however, is a settlement known as "Stringtown." The mines in this vicinity, although once thought to be used up, are found to be still very rich.

Chas. Mamby died at the Villard house Pendleton, on October 24th. He had been unwell for a long time, and had first received money from his father living in West Liberty, Iowa, to enable him to return to his home. It is supposed that excitement brought on by an anticipated early return to his home brought on an epileptic fit from which he died.

The remains of Clark Marshall were found recently in a drift in the Grand Ronde river. The body was much decayed and torn by animals. He was identified by papers and jewelry on the body. One hundred dollars in currency was found sewed up in his shirt and forty dollars on the bank, where it had been thrown by animals. He left the Wood river mines in June.

Some of the richest and most productive land in the Powder river valley is located in the vicinity of Cove, Union county, and is taken up and well cultivated. In the midst of it is a little village which consists of a flouring mill, store, blacksmith shop, post office, and some of the finest residences in Eastern Oregon. There is a nice church building owned by the Episcopalian denomination. The Cove is known far and wide as the champ on fruit-raising region east of the Blue mountains.

A town was laid out on North Powder, about twenty miles from Baker City, a few months ago and named in honor of the stream upon which it is situate. A correspondent says: We want some one to come and start a woolen factory, and a tannery, and a planing mill here; and we want, also, plenty of immigrants with nerve and some money. We have plenty of room. Good timber within five or six miles of the town, and enough to fence all eastern Oregon. There are four saw mills, all running, within eight miles of the town site. There is a beautiful tract of rich land on the Baker county side, owned by M. T. Harlan, who will give any person a block or an acre of it who will build a residence or building worth $500. The land will be but a few rods from the depot grounds as now designated. Everything is cheap: wheat, 50c; beef, 4@5c; flour, $3 25 per bbl; barley and oats, 1c; apples, 2c; potatoes, 1c; lumber, $12 per M.

The custom house at Port Townsend is soon to have a large, new safe. Collector Bash has exerted himself to have needed improvements. Among other things he will soon have a new writing desk and book case for the better preservation of valuable papers.

The improvements at the Tacoma mill have been completed. The capacity of the mill has been very largely increased, fully 40,000 feet daily, making it one of the most complete establishments on the coast. The Samoset, Sumatra and Belvidere are at the wharf awaiting cargo.

The water tank built by V. D. Lambert to be placed on top of Marshall, Jones & Roberts' machine shop, Walla Walla, is ten feet in diameter across the bottom and nine feet high. It will not only serve as a protection against fire, but will furnish water to all parts of the building.

NOTES FROM ALBANY.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

ALBANY, Oct. 29.

The late heavy rains have brought the Willamette up to good boating stage and the welcome whistle of steamers is heard again.

This morning we are having one of the heaviest wind storms from the south experienced for a long time. No damage is yet reported.

The Albany Collegiate Institute has enrolled about one hundred students and is highly prospering under the efficient presidency of Rev. E. N. Condit.

Hon. James Elkins returned on Wednesday last over the Willamette Valley & Cascade Mountain road from the Ochoco valley. Mr. Elkins reports that several feet of snow had fallen in the mountains, but that it was fast melting away.

The circuit court, his honor, R. P. Boise, judge, convened in this city on Monday last, and has been crowding business through this week, mostly civil cases. The prosecuting attorney, Judge W. G. Piper, has been fearless and energetic in his efforts to bring all law-breakers to strict account for their violations.

CRIMINAL NOTES

Failed to Catch Them.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31.—The Courier Journal's Bowling Green special says: An organized effort was made Friday night to capture the James brothers in Logan county, near Adairsville. It had been rumored several days that the robbers were in that neighborhood. A woman wrote to Governor Blackburn on the 10th that they intended to attack the L. & N. at Colesburg soon. Blackburn received the letter at Yorktown and turned it over to the railroad authorities, but in doing this and organizing several days were lost. Detectives organized an attacking party, which was under the direction of Hunter, the man who captured "Cove" Kennedy, and the posse met at Russellville Friday evening, sixteen men strong, selected with special reference to their cool courage and armed to the teeth with Winchester rifles, double-barreled shotguns and pistols. They arrived at 4 A. M. at the house of Hite, near Adairsville, where the robbers were known to have been a few days previous. They surrounded the house, but the birds had flown, being warned in advance.

After the Younger Boys' Pardon.

STILLWATER, Minn., Oct. 31.—Major Younger and Mrs. Sophia Reagan, uncle and aunt of the Younger brothers, are here taking initiatory steps to bring the matter of the boys' pardon to the attention of the legislature on appeal from Gov. Pillsbury, who refused executive clemency. The petitioners are wealthy residents of the Pacific slope and are spending their money freely in behalf of the boys, but as the pardoning power is vested absolutely in the executive, it does not appear on the surface what they can accomplish by recourse to the legislature. Following is an extract from the major's appeal to be presented soon: "In the Minnesota penitentiary there are the last victims of the civil war. They are there because they were driven by circumstances which grew out of the war to lead a life which they hated and despised. The peculiar bitterness of the war between Missouri and Kansas has put them there. They have been grievously punished. In actual battle these men were always merciful. There are federal officers all over the north to-day who owe their lives to Coleman Younger." The aunt supplements the plea with tearful talk of the bad luck the boys had in falling in with thieves while on a little visit to Minnesota," as she grimly calls their raid on the Northfield Bank and the murder of the cashier.

Probably Fatally Shot.

We could hear of no transactions, however, at these figures.

Read the following Testimonials:

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 16 1881.

I have now over eighty (80) of Taylor's Spring Beds in use in the National Hotel, thirty (30) of which have been used daily for over three years, and will say that they are in as good condition now as when I got them, having needed no repairs in that time. I consider them the cheapest, cleanest, and best spring bed in the market, and would not have any other kind in my hotel.

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

OIL! OIL!

SKIDEGATE OIL!

QUALITY, QUANTITY AND PRICE

Are three great considerations to consumers in the general use of LUBRICANTS. On these we base our claims to the Trade, and confidently advertise.

OIL from shark livers is well known to possess very superior lubricating properties, and that manufactured by the Skidegate Oil Company, at their steam works, Queen Charlotte Island, has been tested in competition with Lard, Olive, Gallipoli and Rangoon Oils, and in every instance has proved its superiority. The QUALITY is good, beyond a doubt, a less QUANTITY is required, and the PRICE placed at a rate that is bound to command a large sale and give satisfaction to the consumer. The Company has numerous testimonials in support of its merits, but to those who have not used it, a fair trial is the best way to test its properties and economize value.

PUT UP IN CASES 10 GALLONS EACH.

Quality, ORDINARY and EXTRA. The EXTRA we maintain is second to none in the world for any class of machinery. Send for circular.
